

MFL

From HackTheIBus

MFL is an abbreviation for the german word "Multi-Funktions-Lenkrad" which means multifunctional steering wheel.

The frames coming from the MFL look like the following:

Messages to radio

50 04 68 k1 k2 cc

"k1 k2" can have the following meanings:

"32 10" minus (+) button pressed

"32 11" plus (+) button pressed

"3B 01" button > (next) pressed

"3B 21" button > (next) released

"3B 08" button < (previous) pressed

"3B 28" button < (previous) released

Messages to telephone

50 04 C8 k1 k2 cc

"k1 k2" can have the following meanings:

"3B 80" dial button pressed

"3B 90" dial button pressed for longer than 1 second

"3B A0" dial button released

"3B 40" R/T button pressed

Retrieved from "<http://ibus.stuge.se/MFL>"

---

- This page was last modified 23:04, 28 August 2008.
- This page has been accessed 855 times.
- Privacy policy
- About HackTheIBus
- Disclaimers